I'm sorry, but red's my color now guess you got to me somehow this mistake is breaking me she said, she said

Just shut your mouth and take the blame and paint your face with the shame I know because I know

Take these eyes and bury me
so that I can't see your face and when you die, I won't cry

I've been there before, flesh is warm but I've grown cold State your claim into my veins and scrape my face into your hands and bend me to the ground

Take these eyes and bury me
so that I can't see your face
and when you die, I won't cry

I can't justify your eyes, your eyes justify your eyes, your eyes justify your eyes

Take these eyes and bury me
so that I can't see your face and when you die I can't cry

I can't cry
I can't cry
I can't cry
I can't cry
I can't cry
