

Finding Westerly "I Want More"

Visit "I Want More" on MotoLyrics.com

Won't go down your path
Where the end of the road is emptiness,
But for now it beats the rest
And you say come on, but to get there takes too long Fill my head with all your lies, That would keep me up at night

Your moment here is gone, and i'm no longer wrong
Do you realize what you've done, did you think that you would always be the one You broke me down before, and now your the one bleeding on the floor
And I, I want more

Try to start it again Like before i'm waiting home, And if i'm glass than your a stone
And you blame it on me, but you speak hypocritically
You have never felt such pain, I hope you always feel my pain

Wait and see,try again, you never know how things could end
O wait i lied, goodbye...

Your moment here is gone, and i'm no longer wrong
Do you realize what you've done, did you think that you
would always be the one
You broke me down before, and now your the one
bleeding on the floor
And I, I want more

Your moment here is gone, and i'm no longer wrong
Do you realize what you've done, did you think that you
would always be the one
You broke me down before, and now your the one
bleeding on the floor
And I, I want more

Visit Finding Westerly page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

