thought i could fake this thing alright thought it could somehow get me by watching the doctors as they slide needles into my eye thought i could finally get around laughable symptoms keep me down faces i see all keep me blind now their redemptions mine now that i cant exchange actions for words now that i found these inside fears the worst now that i know theres no place left to hide can i become all i thought i might...

as the leaders who follow the path of whoever was standing round them, call to say what im missing and into a detail they always go dont believe them but offer codolences under the circumstances
all to often im missing the spirit to fit in so call me out.. call me out

thought i could soundly sleep tonight positive clear and breathing right panic attack, panic attacks me now seems like a fair redemption

whoever was standing round them,
and into a detail they always go dont believe them but offer condolences under
the circumstances
all to often im missing the spirit to fit in so call me out..

the circumstances
all to often im missing the spirit to fit in so call me out... call me out again

watching the doctors as they slide a needle in my eye..... my eye a needle in my eye
