Something changing, the secret is building
Almost over and somehow seems a beginning
Losing focus, it must be boring
Looking forward never turns out the wrong way

Conversations alone
Complicate us together on our own
Conversations alone
So alone

No one calling, but someone is bound to reply
No one out there, but someone hears every word
I know we're playing the same game
Easing the conscience by

Conversations alone
Complicate us together on our own
Conversations alone
Keep us from being alone

Alone, oh alone, alone

The road was taken
The path leads on 'til a new one's left to clear
The signal's given
The show turned on 'til emotion cut too near

The road was taken
The path led on
The signal's given
The show turned on

Still receiving
And still believing
The time that you
Take isn't gone

Conversations alone
Complicate us together on our own
Conversations alone
Keep us from being together on our own

Together on our own
Together on our own
Together on our own
Together
