The obvious heart has come to collect
'Cause it tore apart like a tortured insect
The obvious heart waits here to heal
And balances out a subtle reveal

'Cause there's a remedy close
In a familiar dose
This bitter pill to swallow
Is last in the bottle tonight
You're empty, it's alright

And full of yourself
No need to explain to anyone else
Broken in time, taken what's left
No need to deny, the cause or effect

'Cause there's a remedy close
In a familiar dose
Now you can find out who knows
Soaking the truth that she says
In taken chances

This heart is not a broken one
But where have all the colors gone
It's still among the lucky ones

This heart is not a broken one
But where have all the colors gone
You're still among the lucky ones
And burning longer than the sun

'Cause there's a remedy close
In a familiar dose
Now you can find out who knows
Soaking the truth that she says
In taken chances

In taken chances, in taken chances

'Cause there's a remedy close
(In taken chances)
In a familiar dose

(In taken chances)
That you can find out who knows
(In taken chances)

'Cause there's a remedy close
(In taken chances)
In a familiar dose
(In taken chances)
That you can find out who knows
(In taken chances)

'Cause there's a remedy close
