Thought I could fake this thing alright
Thought it could somehow get me by Watching the doctors as they slide Needles into my eye

Thought I could finally get around Laughable symptoms keep me down Faces I see, all keep me blind
And now they're redemption's mine

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Now that I know, there's no place left to hide
Can I become all I thought I might?

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail, they always go
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the circumstances
All too often, I'm missing the spirit to fit in, so call me
out
Call me out

Thought I could soundly sleep tonight Positive clear and breathing right Panic attacks, panic attacks me now Seems like a fair redemption

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Can I become all I thought, I might?

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was
standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail, they
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the
circumstances
All too often, I'm missing the spirit to fit in, so call me

Call me out

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Can I become all I thought, I might?

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was
standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail they
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the
circumstances
All too often, I'm missing the spirit to fit in, so call me
Call me out again

Thought I could fake this thing alright
Thought it could somehow get me by Watching the doctors as they try Slipping a needle in my eye

My eye
A needle in my eye
My eye
A needle in my eye
