I thought I could fake this thing alright Thought it could somehow get me by Watching the doctors as they slide
Needles into my eye

Thought I could finally get around Laughable symptoms keep me down Faces I see all keep me blind
And now they're redemption's mine

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Now that I know there's no place left to hide
Can I become all I thought I might

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail they always go
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the circumstances
All too often I'm missing the spirit to fit in so call me out call me out

Thought I could soundly sleep tonight positive clear and breathing right Panic attacks panic attacks me now seems like a fair redemption

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Can I become all I thought I might

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was
standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail they
always go
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the
circumstances
All too often I'm missing the spirit to fit in so call me

out call me out

Now that I can't exchange actions for words
Now that I found these inside fears the worst
Can I become all I thought I might

As the leaders who follow the path of whoever was
standing round them
Call to say what I'm missing and into a detail they
Don't believe them but offer condolences under the
circumstances
All too often I'm missing the spirit to fit in so call me
out call me out

I thought I could fake this thing alright
Thought it could somehow get me by
Watching the doctors as they slide
Needles into my eye
