Let other words fail, I don't find it fair but anyway
This little string keeps on pulling
I gotta pull myself down some different path
Inside my mind it needs out, I gotta trip myself away
I better wait, I better wait, I better wait, I

I get the sense of a spark so I follow
I don't believe that you know something I know
I tell myself as I stay in the shadow
I tell myself not to go, but I go

Needing to see whichever way she's going
If there's any way
So far from here there's little fear
Her words could ever hurt me, I don't want to wait
Don't want to wait, don't want to wait, I

I get the sense of a spark so I follow
I don't believe that you know something I know
I tell myself as I stay in the shadow
I tell myself not to go, not to go but I go
Not to go, not to go but I go

Don't look, don't talk, don't yell just close your eyes
And this may or may not come as some surprise
I've found obsessions which to live and die by
Don't look, don't talk, don't yell just close your eyes

I get the sense of a spark so I follow
I don't believe that you know something I know
I tell myself as I stay in the shadow
I tell myself not to go, not to go

I get the sense of a spark so I follow
I don't believe that you know something I know
I tell myself as I stay in the shadow
I tell myself not to go, not to go but I go
Not to go, not to go but I go
