The static grows
And kills the message
Unclear as the wind blows
Thin whispers through all the wreckage

You said, you planned to fail
Looking so safe but sorry
So be sure to bang the nail
And seal the exit out

Feel the way through your revelation
Does it feel the way you want to, you want to?

Just say it like it's all true
And you just tell it like you want to

You bled along
The edge of reason
You could have changed your mind
Into the driest season

Don't explain, I know
The lives that you let go
The ones you thought you knew
Held onto deep dark truth

Feel the way through your revelation
Does it feel the way you want to, you want to?

You just say it like it's all true
And you just tell it like you want to

Calculate one last scene of struggling
As I'm sinking
I'll be looking for you
'Cause you'll know who to blame

But you can't
Stop the plan
'Cause supply
Met demand

Feel the way through your revelation
Does it feel the way you want to, you want to?

You just say it like it's all true
And you just tell it like you want to

Calculate one last scene of struggling
As I'm sinking
I'll be looking for you
'Cause you'll know who to blame

As I'm sinking
I'll be looking for you
'Cause you'll know who to blame

As I'm sinking
I'll be looking for you
'Cause you'll know who to blame
