"Bright Eyes"

There's no time to whine
I'm doing just too fine
It's all falling apart
So then again I go start
It's just the same everyday
So then I push it away

Just to get away from this feeling
Just to get away from this feeling

I gotta' gotta' be bright
Need to need to give you some light
It's all pointless now
So then I try if time allows
It's all breaking so I'm making
The thought I'm taking is she's faking

But now all the tears are old
But now I think I'll get a hold

And though it hurts more everyday
And though I'm not brave enough to say

Going through a lot of pain I can't let go
All the times I pretended not to know
But is it time yet to open my eyes?
I'll wait till' I'm free from her lies
And find back a way, when she had her bright eyes
(I gotta' gotta' be bright)

And he's coming into my life
That I'm trying to live up for
It's all going to break soon
And I'll leave myself in toon
It's never perfect anyway
But then I won't say

Just to get away from this feeling
Just to get away from this feeling

I gotta' gotta' be bright

Need to need to give you some light
It's all pointless now
So then I try if time allows
It's all breaking so I'm making
The thought I'm taking is she's faking

And all the things I've done
Are coming up in my head
And all the things I've said
Had ruined all this fun

But now all the tears are old
But now I think I'll get a hold

And though it hurts more everyday
And though I'm not brave enough to say

Going through a lot of pain I can't let go
All the times I pretended not to know
But is it time yet to open my eyes?
I'll wait till' I'm free from her lies
And find back a way, when she had her bright eyes
(I gotta' gotta' be bright)

I gotta' gotta' be
I gotta' gotta' be bright
I'm waiting
I'm waiting
