When the night is long
When the right are wrong
I want to scream and cry
I've kept on dreaming and tried
But nothing takes me any closer
I feel so empty, I'm stepping further
I realize again

It's a wonderful world (Oh yeah...)
It's such a wonderful world (Alright...)

When the mistakes are done
When things break and soon be gone
I always regret and tell there's no more
I can't forget and always end up so sore
And nothing helps me anymore

It's a wonderful world (Oh yeah...)
It's such a wonderful world (Alright...)

When the sun rises and fall
When I'm done and learn to crawl
I can't learn one thing, I'm just standing there
I can't deny, I'm just understanding that this is fair
So can anyone detangle this one more time?
I felt so numb, and I forgot this all so just one more time
I don't want to realize

It's a wonderful world (Oh yeah...)
It's such a wonderful world (Alright...)

Oh, I almost lost my mind
No, but I didn't look behind
In a wonderful world, because I only learned to go
It's a wonderful world, but who would have known?

When I'm used to a painful day
When I'm used to a raining day
I want to scream and cry
I've kept on dreaming and tried
But nothing takes me any closer

I feel so empty, I'm stepping further
Into a wonderful world
