Luck, it's luck
That let me here standing
You, it's you
I hope you're understanding
It's not only me
I'm just far too weak
To live alone

I don't want to forget
If it's the only time I'll get to be
I would never regret
With this fire that you set on me

Black, it's black
When you're embraced in doom
But you, it's you
From the times I've faced, I assume
It's not only me
I'm just far too weak
To live alone

I don't want to forget
If it's the only time I'll get to be
I would never regret
With this fire that you set on me

And all I've waited for
I've waited here for more
I learned that I could wait
And follow my fate

The first chance, I couldn't make it
The step to resume, I couldn't take it
The first glance, I couldn't fake it
The memories consume, I couldn't break it
I remember, after all
Last December, right after fall
Waiting for a second chance to come
Waiting for a second chance to come

To follow my fate

I was waiting for a second chance to come
Waiting for a second chance to come
