"When It Rains"

A raindrop
Makes my feet stop
I know best
I need some rest
And forget things
When you can't carry on
From some things
That just come upon

It's all that I've done
Just to know the truth
It's when emotions were gone
I needed someone to help me through

But don't slow down or regret
There's time left to forget
For days when it rains
For days when it rains
And with seconds left till' the night
The moon would shine a light
For days when pain remains
For days when pain remains

I shouldn't sigh
But every time I try
It always ends
With someone to depend
And to stand by
When you need help standing
After you cry
And you need help understanding

It's all that I've done
Just to know the truth
It's when smiles were gone
I needed someone like you

I wouldn't say
That today was the day
Because it's not
And tears are the only thing I've got

When it comes to ways
I'm completely lost without a map
And life may
Be a maze without you

But don't slow down or regret
For days when it rains
For days when it rains
And with seconds left till' the night
The moon would shine a light
For days when pain remains
For days when pain remains

For days when it rains
For days when it rains
For days when it rains like this
