there's really only two ways to die it's a fear, it's a fact, it's a feeling and you can do it to yourself if you can find a reason well it's a hard route to go to stop the world from spinning around you so what do you do?

kill your heart but your heart's still beating close your lungs but your lung's still feeling up with dirty eyes
you shut your eyes so your eyes stop seeing all the things and the people your being used... and you say

it's my problem
it's my headache
it's your awful that i do
and it has nothing to do with you and people say it's easy to take a walk off a pier or take a trip down memory lane and take a pill well it's harder than you think to leave a world the you've been living in... in misery so what do you do?

(how dare you say?)

how can you say you've always loved me?
(you've never loved anyone but yourself)
you'd always be around (well now you're dead... it sucks to hear)

it's your problem
it's your headache
your problem
your headache

it's your problem now they're your headaches now it's your pride that's losing all control
they're your headaches
