"Before and after us"

Life is made of our mistakes
Broken hearts and slaps in the face
Just like you
So I go along my way
And come along to say
That I've lived enough for today
You don't know my dreams

You don't need to hurt me
I've already hurt myself

You don't need to hurt me
I've already hurt myself

I don't belong in your eyes, Your Eyes I thought I knew you but I should have looked deep in to your eyes, Your eyes Today is something new 'cause this is me before and after us

Yes, I'm calling you weak Eleven months were so much more than a week of lies and fun
So I'm here to burn those days
You won't ever touch my face Cause now I see how I forgot every smile you stole away

You don't need to hurt me
I've already hurt myself?
