There's nothing for today
there's nothing for tonight there's nothing more

there's nothing left to say you left,you ran away there's nothing else

we're not ready for this fight but we could try again

i'm looking for a sign i'm looking for a line
it was all so soft when you were here and you were mine and now i think i'm out of time it won't be safe and warm...

i lost you to fast and when i did all became a mess i got full of fear it was all so confusing here i found i was alone,went out screaming i love you so and then oh then...i felt ashamed it's like i lost my train and i keep running to achieve it

'cause i really hope you can come back...
