Run from your past
Run from the future in front of you
Run run away
At night you lie awake
Wondering about what you have become
You see an empty page
And you feel like to have to run
To a place where you can't remember
But don't be afraid and don't surrender
Run run from your heart
Run run from all that you love
Though it tears you apart
It's a game you feel you must play
Run run away
Everyday you drag down
Where is the hope that you held so dear
Where are the goals you've made?
And why can't you share
This weight that you bear
Your friends try to draw you back in
But you can't escape from where you've been Run run from your dreams
Run run from the nightmare again
Don't wake up with a scream
It's only a matter of gray
Run run away
Run run from your past
Run run from the future in front of you
Don't let this day be your last
You were so young to be betrayed
Run run away
Darkness drapes around you like a cloak
Whenever to you try to love
The anger chokes
You need to seek out the light
And find for yourself that you're alright
Find a hand and hold on
You don't have to walk this way alone
Face the demons and let them be gone
And again your life will be your own
Run run to the truth
Run run wipe away the tears

Recapture your youth
Feel the pain and then let it fade
Don't run away
Don't run away
Run from your past
You'll fight and you'll stay
Run from the future in front of you
Closer everyday
Don't let this day be your be your last
Don't run away
Run run from your heart
Don't run away
Run from all that you love
Don't run away
Run from your past
Don't run away
Run from your past
