The waves are crashing down on me
But I know this cannot be the end be the end
Right now I feel like copping out
Will You hold me up If I just say that I will stay?

I will hold on to this hope that I have
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise
I'll push through this moment, I'll never give up
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise

I'm so tired that I can't stand
But I know that time will heal this heart, heal this heart
With every door that's slamming shut
A new one's there to lead me where You are, where You are

I will hold on to this hope that I have
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise
I'll push through this moment, I'll never give up
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise

You, You call out to me
You're just out of reach but I'm closing in I'm still going, still believing in Your word

I will hold on to this hope that I have
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise
I'll push through this moment, I'll never give up
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise

I will hold on to this hope that I have
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise
I'll push through this moment, I'll never give up
You gave me a promise, You gave me a promise
