A new surprise
It gets me everytime
And because of the spring
I can't do anything
And i check up on the phone
And it works how it's supposed to
There's someone outside my door
But i just keep on sleeping

And i'm waiting

I spend my days at home
Where it all started

I trust my mind
Keep my windows closed
The late night shows
I follow every moment
And the night becomes my day
It's got a pleasant cold
When trees turns grey
They get hard to notice

I spend my days at home
Where it all started

Don't make me cry
Don't say that it's fading
A phone call late at night
And i'll just keep on waiting

I spend my days at home
Where it all started
