So where do we go
When everyone knows, that we're nowhere?

And we're not even nowhere
They say you can get there from here

What can we say at the end of the day
But we gave it a shot

I'll be okay
Just leave me here
Cause there's too many angels
Too many angels

And you wanna know why
Though you know that there's never a reason
But all of the kids that you knew
Keep on turning up blue

You keep searching for somethin
Hell anything you can believe in for now
Cause the nights are so long
And the days are so few

Cause there's too many angels
Too many angels

Oh what can you say?
You know that your words count for nothing
And how does it feel when the real finialy reaches the end?
What can you do when the stars that you knew are all fading away?
You don't need a crutch
You just need a friend

Cause there's too many angels
Too many angels

Yes there's too many Too many
