

First Degree

"Song From The Hospital"

Visit "Song From The Hospital" on MotoLyrics.com

Never thought about the importance of a window cleaner but Now I do, yes, now I do. I'm up on the eleventh floor
And from here you can see
Everything: The cold stores
And the parks and the place where we got robbed
And the bridge between Sweden and Denmark
And the place where we first kissed. We're four in This room, we lie man to man to man to man to but I
Wish we were five yeah, I wish I lied next to you.
I'm up on the eleventh floor and I know
You're down there: The dancing and the Drinks. The drinking and the dance
And the laughter when fucking up things
And the place where we
First kissed. Oh Oh Oh
It can be beautiful sometimes
It can be terrible sometimes!
The man next to me, Dan, is 72
He used to repair cars now it's
His turn to be repaired He says: Oh, boy!
You're much too young to be here
And I don't know what to say
To him, so I say:
Oh, boy! So are you
Oh, boy how are you?

Visit First Degree page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.