--- "Shortcut to Somewhere" Taken from the movie
"Quicksilver" ---

He was a fallen angel from the Tower of Babble
Strung out on a high wire

Another skyline drifter, an immaculate stranger
A legend for the wild west end

So when you're running in a slipstream of the ratrace veterans

Only one thing left to do
(Slide Away)

Take a breath, slide away Quicksilver
the clean cut easy way through

Well it's no Easy Rider ain't no midnight cowboy
Took his place at the starting line

Cos he left you behind with his reputation lone ranger, no friendships are mine

So when you've worked out the problems
And you've worked out the angles(the angles)

And you've worked out what you wanted to do
(Slide Away)

Take a Breath

Slide Away Quicksilver

The only style that you ever knew

That you ever knew

Everybody's wanting a Shortcut to Somewhere

Everyone's needing someone to look up to

Everyone's looking for somebody's hero

Are they nowhere to be found?

Are they nowhere to be found?!

With the high heels clicking down the avenue semafore

Tapping out a series distress to yesterday's zeros those reluctant young heroes

Need a light to lead them out of this mess

So when you've worked out the problems

And you've worked out the angles(the angles)

And you've worked out what you wanted to do

(slide Away)

Take a Breath

Slide Away Quicksilvert

The only style that you ever knew

That you ever knew

He was a fallen angel from the tower of Babble
Strung up on the high wire
Another skyline drifter, an immaculate stranger
A legend for the wild west end.
So when you're running in a slipstream
With the ratrace veterans
Only one thing left to do
(Slide Away)
Take a breath slide away Quicksilver
The clean cut fast easy way through
Well its no Easy Rider ain't no midnight cowboy
Took his place at the starting line
Because he left you behind with his reputation
Everybody's wanting a Shortcut to Somewhere
Everyone's needing someone to look up to
Everyone's looking for somebody's hero
Are they nowhere to be found?!
