Everything you say is not true but we believe in what you say cause no one expect you to be wrong or at least to lie although you're using it just to be a little bit harder than the rest what do you want from me I'm playing hardcore is that so fucking hard for you to see is this your new idea that everybody should be like hell to be you stand there like a softboy and you smile is it just something that I've imagined or is it for real our souls are like two different files but there is something you should remember you're not keeping your friends like that chorus: why can't you give yourself a chance why can't you prove that you're a man

why are you lying with precision is it so hard to make a decision my anger towards you is strong I want to prove that you are wrong with just this song to treat people bad is not my thing among us we stick together just to keep inside of the ring what do you...
chorus:
give yourself a chance
