"Too Late To Change"

We're always involved in problems that we can solve without anyones help although we're seeking shelters that won't bend for the preassure whatever that might be maybe you can stand up and tell how the storie that killed so many peoples can be real and I feel so disgusted when I see the things I see I never thought it was the nature of us human beings and now I feel so strange and locked up by chains but it's never to late to change chorus: too late to change with the same attitude that most of the people have we're going nowhere is that so fucking hard to understand or is it not if not than maybe we can stop act like rabies dogs in a cage full of hatred and confusion but that's just an illusion cause we can't change without feeling strange cause to be mean is the only thing we're seen seen and now we feel so confident when we're behind the backup we have to realise or just to shut up

chorus:

you are the one whos threatening me with a knife but I'm the only one to decide over my life a game is a game and you're playing it just to play can't you realise that there is no more to say
