Prove to me you're just like them so I know I'm right
again.
You've changed throughout the years, but yet I remained here.
It's such a shame to see you go it's for the best I know.
Whoa, what's your problem?
Things, can't get any worse.
Nothing you can coerce.
Nothing you can do now.
Now except your fate.
Give me, give me one more reason.
To believe in you again, in you again.
And when you try to come back and say you're sorry
again.
We'll turn our backs and forget that you ever came.
So here's our farewell the pressure is all off of us now.
