My friends and I, we share the same goals
Had the same goals since I was 16
We've got the same kind of fighter soul
Come and look, it burns like gasoline

See the end of another day
The night arrives erasing the shadows
The night arrives it keeps the light away
And I'm tired, that's the only thing I know

Come watch a generation
Bricks fly when they tear the place down
The course is set, the path is chosen

My friends and I, we all feel the same
Live a life that is plain and simple
Can't take this pride and replace it with shame
Can't lock us in or send us to Hell

I feel fear as the years pass by
I feel fear as I watch the scenario
I close the door and I say goodbye
When I know it's time for me to go

Come watch a generation
Bricks fly when they tear the place down
The course is set, the path is chosen

Come watch a generation
Bricks fly when they tear the place down
Ain't gonna stop before the dream is broken

We're getting off this road going nowhere
We just stop and turn around
This dead end track won't get us anywhere
Always looking for a place with fertile ground
A place with fertile ground

Come watch a generation
(Come watch a generation)
Come watch a generation
(Come watch a generation)

Come watch a generation
(Come watch a generation)
Ain't gonna stop before the dream is broken

Come watch a generation
Bricks fly when they tear the place down
The course is set, the path is chosen

Come watch a generation
Bricks fly when they tear the place down
Ain't gonna stop before the dream is broken
