Does she even know what she wants
Or am I looking like a fool?
Does she even know what she lost
I guess she took me for what she could

So it's time to start again,
But do I even know what I want?
Could this make since once again?
Could never see me for what I've got
But I can't be this way forever now
Now

Any time, any day she wants me, she's got me
She knows that I can't say the lies that she told me all the time
Anywhere I go she knows there, a fear that I can't wake up from this love I made up from her lies

Any time, any day she wants me, she's got me
She knows that I'll be waiting for the return of her love
Anytime, any day she wants me, she's got me
She knows that I'll be waiting for the return from above
