One more chance but what do I get if I make it right this time around?

Just a little bit more than I had before I guess, but I bet, it's too much effort cause it's all for you but it all comes back to me

So I lose, but what do I do? Seems like it's all been done for you

And it's a little bit more than I bargained for I guess, but I bet, it's just a lost cause when it's all for you, yet, it all comes back to me

So will you think of me tonight? I can't stand to know you're right and I'm sorry

It's hard to be alone, and that's something you don't know, and I'm sorry

And I miss you, hard at getting used to

Never get to see the things that you used to do

I guess I'm a mess do to this lack of rest cause it's all for you, but all comes back to me

So will you think of me tonight? I can't stand to know you're right and I'm sorry

It's hard to be alone, and that's something you don't know, and I'm sorry

So will you think of me tonight? I can't stand to know you're right and I'm sorry

It's hard to be alone, and that's something you don't know, and I'm sorry
