Hey, what'd you say
Did you think you could control me for so long
You and your whole damn army
Couldn't hold me back now

And even though I was strong in a way
At the end of the day
I feel my heart about to fall
I feel you there the whole time
I feel you there for all time

Which way do I run
I love the touch of one
The other makes me cry

Hey, why'd you stay
When there were no chains to hold you
They were strong, now they're gone
But nobody ever told you that now
And even though you were strong in a way
At the end of the day
I feel your heart about to fall
I need you there the whole time
(I feel your heart about to fall)
I need you there for all time
(I feel your heart about to fall)

Which way do I run
I love the touch of one
The other makes me cry

My mind was made way back
I can't carry this for you

Which way do I run
I love the touch of one
The other makes me cry
