

Flashback Of Anger

"New Old"

It's been so long since you've been there
And now it's time another day broken
And misled tears is something I will never feel again
I'm picking up my bits and pieces
I will forget about your kisses
I never said this would be easy
But I'll just have to stay away

Make believe I'm only human
See the world through burnt out eyes
I'm afraid we're just the new old
Coming back for one last try

It's been so long now since I've felt this way and now I am through it
It's been so long now just another day let's just get to it.
I can choose it let's get to it.
