When you gonna realise you're a grown up
Take a breath turn around make a full stop
Everybody knows you fucked this all up
Staring out into space with a blank look

Last chance to renounce your innocence
Last chance to retire your confidence
Turn around, make a scene like you're leaving
Won't site me, seeing is believing

[Chorus:]

You barred this mattress on the wall (now walk alone)
You've heard the whispers in the hall (now walk alone)
What are you looking for the exit door is just a step way

When you gonna realise you're a loser
Self glorified washed up user
Everybody knows you fucked up poser
Time to look, take a hint and move over

[Chorus]

You're just one step away
You're just one step away
You're just one step away

When you gonna realise you're a grown up
How you gonna spread you're lies when you're washed up
Who will be by your side when your're used up

[Chorus]

You're just one step away
You're just one step away
You're just one step away
You're just one step away
