Remember when we used to be here now
Livin' in the moment
For days and days and nights and days on end
You found me in the distance
But who can tell where yesterday begins
And Now (and now and now and now and now and then)
And Now it's Now Again

There you are Forgetting not and not Forgiving how We learned to love each other
Like the mountain and the river when they bend
Like ripples in the moonlight
They're here and now and then they're gone again
And Now (and now and now and now and now and then)
And Now it's Now Again

Movin back gone the light
Shadows fall come the night

If i lose you at the start
I will hunt you to the end
And I'll haunt you in the moonlight
And I'll want you in the Wind

If i lose you at the start
I will hunt you to the end
And I'll haunt you in the moonlight
And I'll want you in the Wind

Believe me love,
The wind knows how we used to be here now
It circles to remind us all,
All about the time we used to spend
Don't let it come and go again
As if you don't believe in now and then For Now (and now and now and now and now and now and now and now and now and then)
Now it's Now Again
