Now that I know everything that I know is wrong Am I right if I say, "I didn't know that you knew all along"

Put me on the hot seat, put me on the spot
Tell me I'm in trouble or tell me I'm not
It feels so good I might be right where I belong

Right where, right where I belong
It feels so good I might be right where I belong

In and out of love I wonder what I thought I was doin' there
It might be a different story if anything but life was 'fair
If it's dog eat dog and cat eat cat
I might never see the light until I eat my hat
I'm caught between day and night
And pretty mama I don't care

Right where, right where I belong
I feel so good I might be right where I belong

Right where right where I belong
It feels so good I might be right where I belong

You could tell me I'm crazy, baby thats all right with me
'Cause crazy in love is crazy as a man can be
You tell me, I'm dreamin' or it's all in my head
You can tell me that I'm dyin' or already dead
But it feels so good I might be right where I belong

Right where, right where I belong
It feels so good I might be right where I belong
Right where, right where I belong
It feels so good I might be

Right where, right where I belong
It feels so good I might be right where I belong
It feels so good I might be right where I belong
