I'll never love another now that you've gone away
And left me here to grieve dear all alone
It seems, I always lose my dear no matter how I try
I'll never love another until the day I die

I'll never love another now that you've proved untrue
Without your lovin' darlin', what am I to do?
I spend my life for you dear now you've left me blue
I'll never love another if I can't have you

My castle now has tumbled that I have built for two
And all my dreams have vanished dear with you
I'll find no one to take your place, so, I'll not even try
I'll never love another until the day I die

Now, you don't know the heartaches that you caused me to bear
Or you would never stole my love from me
I have to live my life alone and think of days gone by
I'll never love another until the day I die

I'll never love another now that you've proved untrue
Without your lovin' darlin', what am I to do?
I spend my life for you dear now you've left me blue
I'll never love another if I can't have you
