Sometimes I'm fine I get to thinking of the past
We swore to each other that our love would surely last
You kept right on lovin' I went on a fast
Now I'm too thin and your love is too vast
But I know from your eyes and I know from your smile That tonight will be fine will be fine will be fine will be fine for awhile

I'd choose the room but I live in the can
The windows are small and the walls are almost square
There's only one bed and there's only one chair
I listen all night for the step on the stair
But I know from your eyes...
[ac.guitar - banjo]

Sometimes I see her undressing for me she's a soft naked lady love meant to be
And she's moving her body so brave and so free
A fact to remember that's a fine memory
And I know from your eyes...
And I know from her eyes...
