Only You can decipher this life for me
I just need to start, listening
And I will hear You, I will hear You
Take my hand, come home
You are never alone
And I love you
And I forgive you
Understood and overwhelmed
I'm grateful for faithful hearts
Sound cascading, delicately fading out
That's when I heard You
Take heart, the hardest part is over
I can't tell you what you already know
Closed eyes tears falling
What you already know
This chorus, before us
What you already know
These voices, this stillness
What I already know
And all Your, Forgiveness
Take heart, the hardest part is over
This pain is not in vain
Just wait and see, just trust in Me
