"Drops In The River"

Crown of leaves, high in the window on a cold morning
Young today, old as a railroad tomorrow Days are just drops in the river to be lost always
Only you, only you, you know

Years ago, birds of a feather would arrive nightly Gone you know, held to another like clutched ivy
On the shore, speak to the ocean and receive silence
Only you, only you, you know

You hesitate so my memory fades, I'll hold to the first one
I wouldn't turn to another you say, on the long night
we've made
Let it go

Only you, only you, you know
Only you, only you, you know

You hesitate so my memory fades, I'll hold to the first
one
I wouldn't turn to another you say, on the long night
we've made
Let it go

Speak to me slow my dear
No ghost of course in here
Pleased to be lonesome quiet and clear
All is alone in here
