We make all of our suns the same Everyone will suffer the fire we've made they all explode just the same And there's no going back on the plans we've laid

Peacekeeper take your time wait for the dark of night
Soon all the suns will rise Peacekeeper don't tell why don't be afraid to fight
Love is the sweet surprise

Only creatures who are on their way ever poison their own well
But we still have time to hate And there's still something we can sell

Peacekeeper take your time
wait for the dark of night
Soon all the suns will rise
Peacekeeper don't tell why
don't be afraid to fight
Love is the sweet surprise

When the night is cold and still when you thought you'd had your fill Take all the time you will
this is not a test it's not a drill Take no prisoners break their will

You know all of our friends are gods
And they all tell us how to paint our face
But there's only one brush we need It's the one that never leaves a trace

Peacekeeper take your time
wait for the dark of night
Soon all the suns will rise
Peacekeeper don't tell why
don't be afraid to fight
Love is the sweet surprise

When the night is cold and still when you thought you've had your fill
This is not a test it's not a drill
Take no prisoners break their will
