I'm so small
Do you think I matter at all?
When I call your name out loud
Can you hear me in the crowd?

When I look up into the starry sky
I think my oh my
I get dizzy and weak and it makes me think
I have the life span of a fly

Can you see me breathing?
Hear me screaming
For you, for you

I'm so small
But if I was a movie star
My youth would be sealed in a can on a reel
Then I could be twelve feet tall

That's why I wear my hair so big
Some people think it might be a wig
But it's all part of my plot
To prove I'm not a dot

Can you see me breathing?
Hear me screaming
For you, for you

Can you see me breathing?
Hear me screaming
For you, for you

I'm so small, I'm so small
I'm so small, I'm so small

Can you see me, see me breathing?
Can you hear me, hear me screaming?

Can you see me breathing?
Hear me screaming
For you, for you

Can you see?
Hear me breathing
For you, for you, for you
