Feel so numb feel so dead
Just felt like someone hit my head
Like someone knew just what to do
Poison the masses catch the running few Feel so empty feel so old
Just waiting to feel the death like cold
Eating away at my life ties
Not really knowing not caring why

Life is pretty cheap. sold a decade at a time
Life is pretty cheap. it's so easy to find
Life is pretty cheap. there's really nothing new
Life is pretty cheap.
Except for the cold delirious few

Dying too young living too fast
It's starting to feel like I'm living in the past

The pain is strong more than one can bear
Why is there religion. it's just not fair People cling to things to make to make their lives seem real
Crawling like bugs at some fool leader's heels Boasting of freedom when they're tied down with chains
It's time to give it up. here comes the death rain

Life is pretty cheap. sold a decade at a time
Life is pretty cheap. it's so easy to find
Life is pretty cheap. there's really nothing new
Life is pretty cheap.
Life is pretty cheap.
Except for the cold delerious few
