i fell in love with my baby i fell in love with my girl again but im fallin down in her sorrows we gonna walk together hand in my hand as i fade away in the love i found with you when im gone its gonna push me through ramble on down this road, ramble on but we'll meet again in our dreams sing our song, by the sea on golden shore sweep by and by your love's got me hypnotized

(because) i dont know what you want me to say and i dont know what you want me to do and i dont care about anything but lovin you always

but im seein things for the first time through her eyes ive been reborn so pickin up those pieces off the floor cuz it never stops never changes and i dont know what you want me to say

and i dont care about anything

when im leavin im gone i aint mad at you im just out doing what other daddies do tryina make a little something i can pass to you besides some good game and a rap or two when im lookin into your eyes aint no words to speak just cuddle you to my heart, let you feel the beat listen to the whisperin the songs i sing everyone dedicated to the sons of kings i leave and come back sometimes its too long chase the big bread and race to get home its unconditional whatever you need we raisin the young pimps in a world of thieves you didnt ask for a soldier dad give and gone never get to know your dad young to grown never gonna leave you alone and if you ever gettin impatient play this song

and i dont care about anything

i dont know what you want me to say
