I would wrap the world in clover

But you make me see my way

And I would die for you tomorrow

Would you come to me today?

Sing a song of sadness about the girl with the happy face

And dance upon the water with a ripple or a trace

Love is here any cloudless sky

Would you be my flushing bride?

I don't think so

But I never met a girl like,

I never met a girl like,

I never met a girl like you before

I'd climb the highest mountain

To the sunrise from your face

Light a million candles

To flicker to your name

Scream aloud with vengeance

With the wind beneath my breath

Do you understand the madness?

Do you recognize the grace?

Love is here any cloud in the sky

Would you be my flushing bride?

I don't think so

But I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like you before,

Oh no I never met a girl like you before

Oh no I never met a girl like you before

I'd surely die in limbo

Waiting for your every call

Will I ever see your sunshine?

When I'm done playing it all

A boy with no companion

Lost for baby blue

Words more than mean it

When they count for one like you

Love is here any cloudless sky

Would you be my flushing bride?

I don't think so

But I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like

I never met a girl like you before,

Oh I never met a girl like

Never met a girl like

Never met a girl like you before

Oh no I never met a girl like you before
