So I will pave this road till glory
Sets our broken spirit free
From every cross soaked nail, pours endless rain
With tears, no eyes should see

But they could fill our highest ocean
And the rivers in between
With every blade that flowers must grow, then drown
With love, our cruelest sea

So with a wonder an' a wild desire
I will crawl from under every weight
With a wonder an' a wild desire
Bless the day it was I shared your name
Yesterday forever speaks your grave

Hailed the shower from the broadside
To the heavens down below
Draw one last breathe from your famine ship
Sink the hunger in us all

Shake the hand that speaks of freedom
Kiss hate one final bow
'Til each twilight falls, then rests till dawn
Where tomorrows never sleep

So with a wonder an' a wild desire
I will crawl from under every weight
With a wonder an' a wild desire
Bless the day it was I shared your name
Each word, forever speaks your grave
And of the fool, we shall not mention
That depraves the cries of youth
Drag not your strength from the government
But from the voices they abused

So with a wonder an' a wild desire
I will crawl from under every weight
With a wonder an' a wild desire
Bless the day it was I shared your name
Yesterday forever speaks your grave

Only time will tell, when this reign of hell
Shall wither in defeat
Seperate the bread that they forgot to share
To the mouths still left to feed

Though his body ached
Then disappeared
Into the ground now seeds
He said, "I, I'll always comfort thee"

So I will pave this road till glory
Watch as our broken spirits soar
Resonate with perfect reason
Shut life's last gloomy door

So with a wonder an' a wild desire
I will cross from under every weight
With a wonder an' a wild desire
Bless the day it was I shared your name

With a wonder an' a wild desire
I will cross from under every weight
With a wonder an' a wild desire
Bless the day it was I shared your name
Yesterday forever speaks your grave
