So this is the life, a fresh start to somewhere new.
Standing at the top, of the stairway of our new house to hear you fight again, what gives you the right.
We are too young to fall asleep forever,
Is this everyting you hope for.
Headline: We will never be forgiven and a full cover story of how her heart will kindle - for the fight.

I can't get up we can't even move,
The sunlight will kill you're eyes again.
How does it feel, standing at you're heroes grave, you approve with a smile.
We will never forget as long as we live
