Solvents glue and heroin she said
I don't want to do that at all
I took her to see Robert Mitchum in Night of the Hunter

Shelley Winters has a vision of Righteousness from up above
She trades her children for the love
Of a preacher with a soul decay

(chorus)
Could it be the son went down to stay
The virgin Mary sold herself today

Promise of the future and she feels
That he's still in love with her
Love and hate tattooed upon the Knuckles of a preacher man

I could tell she wishes she were dead
A vacuole where she's been led
Forgetting of the father's son
On the day the law took that away

(chorus)
