

Florence Joy

"Till you were gone"

Visit "Till you were gone" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm watching children in the park
it really warms my heart it's something to remember I take a walk down by the sea the wind is killing me must be the end of summer I think about the things I've said and done but most of all I do regret that I didn't know you were the one
till you were gone

I take the train back to my street
I need something to eat but I'm not going home yet Sitting outside a restaurant I watch the world go by I'm wondering where you are now I think about the things you've said and done Well you were right and I was wrong I didn't know you were the one
till you were gone

I'm watching children in the park
I take the train back to my street

Visit Florence Joy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.