"Slide"

I have a simple plan
I'll see it slide and then fall apart
To learn from experience
Is a way I'm complete again

So you can change it
You hold your life in your hands
Stop ingesting that strife that makes you comfortable
And bury it

I'm saving the part of me that's mine

Lately I've been wandering around in circles (in circles)
Maybe it's the only way I can know the places I have been Lately I've been waiting

Change it
You hold your life in your hands
Stop ingesting that strife that makes you comfortable
And bury it

Waking slowly
To take this
Part of me that's mine

Time calls my name
The end of the waiting
I go there
I know them
Time calls me there
And you couldn't tell a soul
