Trapped in solemn cries,
Together weave departure.
For all tomorrow's lies,
We never walk alone...

Inhale the world's demise,
The ashes of our martyrs.
Swear alone, forever contemplate,
Fear no more, and celebrate the end!

Don't Leave Alone...

Feel redemption here,
The ones who lead to follow.
The sense of borrowed life,

I never meant to care...

Restrain your world's decline,
The ashes of betrayal.
Take no more, together isolate,
Swear no more, and tolerate the end!

We crossed the borderline,
As ones who take good care.
Before all fortune lies,
Colossal shaped despair.

Don't Leave Alone...
