

Bon Iver "Wolves"

Someday my pain, someday my pain
Will mark you
Harness your blame, harness your blame
And walk through

With the wild wolves around you
In the morning, I'll call you
Send it farther on

Solace my game, solace my game
It stars you
Swing wide your crane, swing wide your crane
And let it through

And the story's all over you
In the morning I'll call you
Can't you find a clue when your eyes are all painted
Sinatra blue

What might have been lost(x4) -
Don't bother me
