I swear
All I could see was ruins for miles and miles
As they unfolded right before my eyes
Like a lot of funny faces
Looking like they don't know what's going on Searching for a home

But they're smiling now
Guess that's the only right
Wouldn't you?
Because somebody wanted them after all
Displaced final call

Good
Attention fixed we'll stop
Usual tricks

Good times make you think how lucky you are
You can smell good all day long
And we can make your roof never leak
You've been sold

The ruins have all got better again
There are a couple of scars, better to keep them
Pick them every now and again
A little reminder, a little reminder
With a lot less pain

Interrupted back to the inbetweens
No relation to the big screen
Unlike the tiger
One of the best i've ever seen
Majestic
Quite serene
He is a beautiful beast
That eats beautiful meat
